

Board picks superintendent

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

The Romulus Board of Education has opted for experience in its selection of a new school superintendent. James M. Garfield, acting superintendent, filled the bill when he accepted the job Aug. 16. Garfield, former assistant superintendent in charge of personnel, received a narrow decision in favor of being hired Aug. 11 when the board split 4-3 to offer him the job. After mulling the decision until Saturday, he accepted the school district's top post.

The job itself is nothing new to Garfield, who was a superintendent of education in the Crestwood School District from January 1969 until July 1972, before accepting the Romulus post. He resigned the Crestwood post for personal reasons before taking the Romulus job.

Prior to that he was in the administration of the Willow Run School District for 10 years.

"I'm happy the board has confidence in me to do the job," Garfield said. "I have no problems with the three 'no' votes in the decision, since I think the board members voted their convictions and were casting no personal indictment against me."

Board members Gloria Chandler, Carl W. Morris and Gordon Silvey voted against Garfield's hiring.

The superintendent said he discussed the vote with at least one board member and said the split was "nothing that couldn't be resolved."

Garfield added that one of the major things facing him in the new position is to "study operations and to meet with the Board of Education to discuss objectives I may have for the system, and see how they balance the board's ideas."

The new superintendent has been in education for 21 years, starting out as a teacher and moving into administration as an administrative assistant to a principal in Willow Run in 1958.

During his time in administration Garfield has handled curriculum, general operations, school administration and personnel chores.

Prior to being named acting superintendent of the Romulus School District, he was the assistant superintendent in charge of personnel for Romulus.

"I'd describe myself as a good generalist who can handle many details in the school system," Garfield said.

Garfield, 48, is married and the father of five children.

He replaces Robert McConeghy who resigned at the end of the last school year. McConeghy took a job with the Wayne County Intermediate School District after 16 years at the top post in the Romulus school administration.

Haile chosen 'chief' of police protection

A move has been made to "bring the police back to the people" in Romulus. Deputy Inspector James Haile has been appointed the "chief" of Romulus' contingent of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol. In the newly-created job, Haile will establish offices in the city and serve as the main police spokesman for the community department.

The appointment was made by Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas at the request of Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt.

Troutt said: "This is a sign by the sheriff that he wants to render the best service possible to Romulus."

"I've said I'm satisfied with the sheriff's protection for the community, but that there always is a need for improvement."

"One of the major needs was for a community liaison agent to handle the day-to-day chores of administering police service for the community at the local level."

"The deputy inspector fills that role."

Haile finds his appointment a challenge in his 20-year career with Road Patrol.

"I'm pleasantly surprised," he said. "This is a great challenge for me personally, both as a police officer and as a citizen in a community."

"As a citizen, I see a need for police protection, and now, being in charge of my own force offers me an opportunity to implement programs to meet that need."

"The main service I can render is to deliver the police protection to the community as efficiently and quickly as possible."

The deputy inspector holds a job which is unique in the sheriff's force since he is the only officer directly responsible for administering the service in one community — a role essentially the same as a police chief.

"One of the main jobs I have is making community contact," Haile said. "I'm available for all citizens to contact with suggestions, complaints or questions on the service."

The new "chief" will supervise the operations of a 32-man uniformed patrolman detachment, a 2-man detective bureau and a 1-man youth bureau.

Haile, 43, is married and the father of three children.

Sunday picnic on tap

Still promising that there will be no politicking involved, members of the Romulus Rotary Club forge on with plans for the first Bicentennial Community Picnic.

The picnic is sponsored by the Rotary Club and the city's Bicentennial Committee and is set for noon to 6 p.m. Sunday at Elmer Johnson Park.

Games - planned to include all ages - will be played and the Rotary will be selling such things as hot dogs, pop, beer, ice cream and pop corn.

Also part of the picnic activities (not reported in last week's Roman) will be a horse shoe tournament, and competition to pick the oldest couple, the largest family and the couple married the longest.

"This is a community-wide picnic," said Doug Baum, chairman of the event. "We'd like to see 1,000 people there. That's why we are offering something for everyone. We have planned a number of different events, hoping to touch every aspect of community life."

Assisting Baum in the Rotary effort are Dave McCrory, co-chairman, and Bob Mach, Gordon Silvey, Vince Makino and Tut Mach.

The Rotarians are handling all the games, with Florence Makino in charge of that effort, Baum added.

Members of the Rotary urge residents to bring portable tables and blankets. Although there are some tables available at the park, there would not be enough for the more than 1,000 residents that hopefully will attend, Baum said.

Candidates discuss city services, funding cuts

Thirteen candidates for City Council in Romulus detailed their plans for rearranging the city budget to meet their priorities for services to the citizens.

The candidates were asked: What is the one major program or city service or department in the budget which needs improvement? If you are elected to the council, and working within the current tax structure, what current programs or city services or departments could be cut to finance the needed improvement?

Candidate Robert Abbey said: "I believe that anything which touches or affects a person or group of persons can be and usually is a major item of concern. I believe there is nothing which cannot be improved upon."

"Working within the current tax structure, the first thing to look at is new ideas in improving services to the taxpayers if at all possible. It is reasonable to assume that the services rendered our citizens require personnel, machinery and materials. This requires a substantial expenditure, so we must look to improvements of methods in accomplishing our objectives."

Answering in alphabetical order, Gervazio Canejo said he sees "an increase in the availability of police services" as the major need in the city budget.

"Until Romulus can afford its own police force or additional Wayne County sheriff deputies, I propose an auxiliary police force composed of responsible local citizens," he wrote. "These officers would act as visible deterrent to crime and also increase the effectiveness of our regular deputies by giving them additional sets of eyes and ears."

Canejo proposes "streamlining our present government" as a means to find funds for his program. Lngg Coleman, an incumbent, said his major concern in the government is service to its senior citizens and youth.

He cites plans for a senior citizen complex as one means to meet senior citizen problems, while

EDITOR'S NOTE: In our effort to provide you with the best possible coverage of the city elections, The Romulus Roman has introduced an issue forum. Each week candidates will be answering issue questions relating to the election and life in Romulus. This week the question was addressed to council candidates. A QUESTION FOR THE MAYORAL CANDIDATES WAS MADE AVAILABLE AT OUR OFFICE AT NOON TODAY. Answers to the question must be returned in writing to us by noon Monday. As a service to our readers, we are placing the issue forum in this handy clip-out format and suggest voters save the stories for re-reading before going to the polls.

stating that the recent defeat of two bond issues "was not so much against better roads and recreational facilities as it was against additional millage."

"Therefore voters are telling me that they still want these improvements at a time when they believe the city can better afford them," he wrote. "We also will have to search for other ways to give the people these services without raising taxes."

Candidate Jeffery C. Dahlstrom said: "I believe that everybody likes something for their money, therefore it would be those services which and departments which directly serve the citizens that I would aim improvement."

"In particular, the senior citizens program and also the fire and police departments."

To finance improvements in the departments, Dahlstrom wrote: "I would direct the cutbacks to the elimination of the Department of Responsive Government" since the City Council should do the same job.

Charles J. Dick Jr., said that his major priority in the budget is promoting economic development. "With the completion soon of I-275 as well as I-94 running through Romulus, the airport and two railroads, we should be a mecca for industry and business," he wrote. Dick added that the city may lose effectiveness in promoting development by combining the position of industrial coordinator and planner, and suggests that services be cut back in the Department of Public Works and that "extra employees hired in the past two years with important sounding titles" be cut back to finance a boost in economic development.

Kenneth R. Howington said he would begin finding money in the city budget for improving services by cutting back on the staff of the city administration.

"There is little improvement to justify this increase in administrative personnel and city employees, so let's cut some of the overpaid, politically appointed city administrators," he wrote.

Extra funds obtained in a personnel cut would be spent on "more efficient supervision of the men and better equipment in the Department of Public Works," he added.

Joseph R. Kochanoski said the department which needs improvement in the budget is the Department of Public Works (DPW) since "our roads and drains are in great need of improvement and the DPW needs better coordination" since recently black-topped roads now are being torn up to put in drain pipes.

Funding would be obtained by asking "departments to make a reduction in their staff and budget," according to Kochanoski.

Incumbent Councilman Joan A. Lee believes a bolstering of the DPW in certain areas and an improvement in the ordinance enforcement section of the DPW are important.

She proposes purchasing new equipment for the DPW to help in cutting weeds and to clean streets, and wrote that the purchases "could be provided without any cutback in any department or program" since capital outlay portions of the DPW budget was spent on purchasing equipment to replace obsolete items during the past two years.

Through bonding issue

Legislators react to mass transit scheme

Three local legislators believe the benefits of a $175 million mass transit bonding scheme approved by the Michigan Legislature and expected to be signed by Gov. William G. Milliken will put Michigan back on the track in obtaining federal grants.

State Sen. William Faust (D-13th District) and State Reps. Gary Owens (D-22nd District) and Edward E. Mahalak (D-38th District) all indicated the bonding proposal, which could draw as much as $670 million in federal funds to Michigan during the next three years, is a small start on the road to mass transit improvement.

"The bill will insure that Michigan receives its share of federal funds," said Owens.

"For years the state has sent taxes to the federal government and hasn't received its fair share back," he added. "It has ranked fourth of fifth in money sent to the government, and 35th in money received back."

"This will go a long way toward correcting that situation."

Mahalak, who represents Romulus and Huron and Sumpter Townships said the money "will benefit this area, and not just Detroit."

"I've been a backer of mass transit for some time," he said. "I think we have to pay for what we want."

Faust said the impact of the bill is far greater than the fund allocation implies.

"My district is one of the hardest hit by the economic problems of this state," he added.

"And this bond proposal will guarantee funds to create jobs — as many as 6,000 by estimates."

"That impact is just as important as beginning mass transit programs."

Owens said the funds expended through the state and combined with federal dollars "will become like a carrot on a stick to taxpayers."

"I think the payers have to see what mass transit will do before they get behind it to any great extent," Owens said.

"Michigan is far behind other states in mass transit construction and needs to catch up."

The problem with the bill is that after three years, the bond funds will have been spent, and the state will need alternative methods of financing transit.

"I think once this program is ended, the voters can expect to be asked for another bonding proposal, like the $1.1 billion plan defeated in 1974," Owens said. "Only this time they can expect to see a better proposal than the one presented in 1974."

"All the officials in the state, including the legislators, did a poor job on promoting the bond issue and showing what it can do."

"But when it comes back again, the voters can expect a better effort, because they will have seen the results of what this small bond issue did."

"If the state doesn't get on the ball, it could end up seeing those federal funds it sends each year subsidizing operations in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Philadelphia instead of being returned to Michigan where they are needed drastically."

Sides cooperate as teacher talks continue

Garfield said the district was nearing agreement with the building supervisors' group.

Mrs. Powers, a teacher in the district's Wick Road Elementary School, said that major items to be resolved in the teacher's pact include salary, sick leave time, coverage for substitute teachers, class size and a demand by the teachers that a "no strike" clause be eliminated.

Mrs. Powers said that the district and teachers are approximately $360,000 apart in terms of a total package on salary schedules.

"The board's last offer came up only $40,000 from the last previous stand," she said.

In addition, she said that the teachers are asking for three paid sick leave days above the present limit of 12, a reduction in class sizes from 35 to 25 students in elementary grades and a clause which would create a "temporary teacher" grade for long-term substitutes.

The "temporary teacher" rank would allow substitutes to collect salary at the low end of the teacher pay scale instead of the $40 per day they collect for each day of long-term substitution. Under the present pay scales, first-year teachers collect approximately $52 per day in pay.

Garfield argued with the REA's figures on pay scales, calling the monetary difference on the general wage package "something more like $750,000."

The teachers and administrators talk about different figures when they're assessing the cost of a new package," Garfield said. "I'm talking about new money over last year's package, and the amounts to about $750,000 at this time."

"I'd say the board has come up about $400,000 from last year's money levels in offers."

Garfield said that the differences between the two sides in negotiations must be examined in terms of cost at each step.

He added that the request for paid sick leave time increases could cost "as much as $30,000 per extra day — or nearly $100,000 in its present form" and said that a decrease in class sizes would mean the need to hire 30 teachers over last year's levels at a cost of more than $280,000.

"I don't see the temporary teacher problem as anything major, and don't see any way the board will give up the no strike clause," Garfield added.

"It boils down to money, and in this year's state aid formula, I'd estimate the new formula cost Romulus $50,000 in new money," he said. "The cooperation between the sides has improved, and we intend to talk, but money is the big difference now."

Garfield added that preliminary figures show Romulus will receive approximately the same amount of money in state aid as last year — $1.3 million.

Candidates discuss services

Beverly McAnally, an incumbent, said: "If re-elected, I would endeavor to organize an industrial expansion corporation whose function would be to encourage and actively seek new business and industrial growth in Romulus."

She said savings in man hours spent in research could be obtained by purchasing modern, record-keeping equipment which would streamline record searches and result in a savings.

"As the city grows, it becomes increasingly imperative that accurate data be available readily for evaluation," she wrote. "City affairs move too rapidly to be bogged in an antiquated methodology."

Jon Madish said the major need, is for a shopping center.

"Efforts are being made currently to locate a shopping center in Romulus," he said. "I believe I can be of assistance in this endeavor."

"Because of the residents of Romulus enjoy one of the lowest tax assessments in Wayne County, and I would like to see it stay that way, we must turn to inventive methods of financing many things that the city lacks," Robert H. Martin said that improvement in the Fire Department "is the most crucial."

"With high rise buildings in our near future, we must move now to upgrade our fire services," he wrote. "Our present fire equipment requires all the skill of fire fighters to even cope with second story fires."

Martin said he would improve financing for service in the Fire Department by giving each department head in the city a goal to reduce his budget.

"Currently major cooperations are proving that this can be done," he wrote. "If local citizens are tightening their belts, then the city should lead the way. For instance, gasoline savings and repairs for all city vehicles could affect each department."

Candidate Jimmie D. Raspberry wrote that there is a need to improve all procedures in the City Hall.

"City service needs improvements from an operational as well as fiscal spending and efficiency standpoint," he said. "Departments which are compatible in responsibilities, such as ordinance enforcement and building inspection could be and should be combined for savings on administration and efficiency."

Funds to finance needed improvements would be obtained not by raising the millage, according to Raspberry, but by saving increases due to raises in the state equalization factor for Romulus and saving funds obtained through industrial expansion.

Jack Trumble, an incumbent, said that "additional expenditures are necessary for the maintenance of parks and city properties and cutting of weeds throughout the city. In order to increase ser-VICES to the residents additional equipment is necessary."

"Although our departments within the city are functioning fairly well, I might point out that improvements are needed and money is available," he said. "As an elected official, I would keep the best interest of the people in mind before additional expenditures are made."

Not answering the questions posed by The Romulus Roman this week were Fred Junior Block, an incumbent; Charlie Harris; William Oakley, an incumbent, and Oliver Warren.

Full-time assessor resigns

Romulus' only full-time paid assessor has resigned his job to take a position in Nebraska.

Harold Reiner, the first man hired exclusively to handle assessment chores in Romulus, will take a job as an appraiser for Minden County in Nebraska.

Reiner said that his pay will be $21,700 per year in the county job. He now receives $15,228 from the city.

Reiner was hired in September of 1968 by former Romulus Township Supervisor Edmund Bizak as a deputy assessor. Reiner served as full time assessor of Romulus property until the township was incorporated as a city in 1971.

At that time he was given the title as director of assessment.

Prior to the time Reiner was hired, the township supervisor served as the tax assessor as stipulated by state law.

Reiner said: "I'll be sad to leave a lot of people in this town."

The authority which could administer operations for a new 34th District Court may have a site available for a new court building.

Members of a 3-man committee charged with finding a new site for the court, now lying within the path of runway expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport in south Romulus, will interview spokesmen for the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) during the week to test the authority's willingness to donate an unused portion of the Lower Huron Metropark to the five communities which utilize the court.

The site lies on Huron River Drive between the Huron River and northbound Haggerty Road in Van Buren Township.

Though part of the Huron Metropark, the land was cut off from the rest of the park when a new Huron River drive was constructed south of the Webb Forging-Huron Valley Steel — Horst Manufacturing complex in Van Buren Township.

"The site is ideal," said

Nation needs William Rosenberg

There is one thing everyone agrees on concerning William Rosenberg's tenure as chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission: it hasn't been dull.

Rosenberg went to the commission in January 1973, with an assignment from Gov. Milliken to shape things up and a reputation as a bureaucrat who could get things done. That reputation remains untarnished as he leaves for a job with the Federal Energy Administration in Washington.

In some respects, the Public Service Commission is the most important agency in state government. It controls the companies who deliver electricity, gas and phone service to your house and its decisions determine their financial health. Few things are more basic in our society than gas and electricity.

Rosenberg brought the state regulation of utilities into the 1970s and out of a 1920s atmosphere which saw staff workers checking computer printouts from utilities with hand calculators — an absurd situation. He has more than doubled the size of its staff and he has changed the basic function of the staff from being merely the checking of arithmetic on rate cases to a look at the way the companies operate.

He saw the end of graduated pricing structures which encouraged the use of energy. He saw a total change in the way utilities apply for rate increases, setting up a standard procedure for all to use.

Not all of these changes have come peacefully, of course. During his time on the commission, he and commission member William Ralls have clashed repeatedly. Critical broadsides have come from both utility executives who thought he was meddling too much in their affairs and being too tough and from self-styled consumer groups who accused him of sleeping with the utilities.

Rosenberg is a forceful, impatient man and such men step on toes at times. They also get things done quickly, however, and that was what was needed more than anything at the commission.

Now the energetic administrator is going to Washington as assistant administrator for energy resource development with the Federal Energy Administration.

Hearings on his confirmation by the Senate have been upheld until after the August recess by Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.) at the request of Genesee County Prosecutor Robert Leonard. There are some who see the hand of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley in the move. Kelley, a constant critic of Rosenberg's, is a close ally of Leonard's and is managing Jackson's presidential campaign in Michigan. We hope that is not the case.

Leonard alleges Rosenberg has been too good to Michigan utilities, a rather absurd charge when it is considered that Forbes magazine ranked Detroit Edison and Consumers Power 48th and 49th respectively in financial ratings of the country's 50 largest utilities.

We hope the hearings are merely a formal procedure which will result in confirmation. That is what our Washington friends tell us the situation is at the moment.

What this country needs more than anything as it charts its energy future is some people who aren't afraid to make decisions, even if they are unpopular, which are in the long term interest of the people. Rosenberg has shown he is that sort of administrator — a man who doesn't pander to the immediate whims of the crowd — and we can use him in Washington.

Worker needs protection

How noisy is too noisy? There has been a deafening debate going on in Washington over that question.

And a lot is at stake in the outcome: For the worker, it could be his hearing or his job. For the businessman, it could be his business. And for the consumer, it could be another big boost for inflation.

The issue breaks down into two parts:

1. What's the highest level of noise a worker can be subjected to on the job without suffering serious permanent damage to his hearing?
2. What's the best way to protect him from noise levels higher than that?

Everybody agrees that the worker should be protected from dangerous noise levels. But that's where the agreement ends. One might expect business and labor to be at odds — and they are — but in this case, the four federal agencies involved can't even agree with one another.

Some experts believe the upper noise limit should be 90 decibels (dBA). That's about as noisy as a busy New York subway station. In this camp, to varying degrees, are representatives of industry, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health and the Council on Wage and Price Stability.

Other experts believe 90 dBA is too high, and want the standard to be 85 dBA, which is about the noise level of a busy street corner. Organized labor and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) favor the lower level.

Much more important than the level, however, is how it is to be reached.

The simplest, least expensive and most effective way of protecting a worker's hearing from a noisy environment is to equip him with a set of custom fitted ear plugs or ear muffs (which look like hi-fi headphones without a cord).

The alternative is to redesign all machinery to make it quieter in operation.

Labor and all of the government agencies but one want industry to try redesign first, to the extent "feasible," and to resort to ear plugs only if redesign fails.

Representatives of industry say it doesn't make much sense to choose the most expensive possible solution — redesign — when there's a better way to do it that costs far less.

How much less? Personal ear protection for all who need it would cost about $23 million. Modifying or replacing present factory equipment to meet the proposed noise standards — if it could be done at all — could cost up to $150 billion. Even OSHA puts the cost as high as $31 billion (in 1973 dollars).

And it does seem strange, when you think about it, that the same federal government that doesn't consider 3-point auto safety belts too great an inconvenience for the motorist is nevertheless willing to spend $150 billion of our money to save some factory workers from ear plugs.

If you agree, call your congressman and give him an earful.

The Enterprise-Roman is committed to bringing the Bicentennial closer to our readers. And as part of that effort, a series, "The Michigan Big Story," will be published weekly. The 76-part series includes topics which contributed to the shaping and direction of the State of Michigan. The impact which this series is certain to have will provide a legacy for future generations of readers as they look back on what we did to celebrate the Bicentennial in Michigan, according to the Michigan Revolution Bicentennial Commission. The series is being prepared by the commission.

MACKINAW CITY (NOV. 1, 1957)—Mighty Mackinac Bridge, the 5-mile-long colossus linking Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas, formally was opened today by Gov. G. Mennen Williams amid pomp and pageantry.

With helicopters buzzing overhead and an army of newsmen and photographers recording the event, Gov. Williams led a motorcade of dignitaries across the massive span from St. Ignace to Mackinaw City to become the first person in history to pay the bridge toll.

In presenting his check for the $3.25 toll, Williams said: "I hope this check will help the toll takers to reduce the debt of $100 million to this bridge, which will tie all of Michigan closely together."

It was a triumphant moment for Williams, whose support for the bridge project encouraged its detractors in the Legislature to call it "Soapy's Folly".

Former Sen. Prentiss Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, called the opening "the most significant event to take place in this region since the first explorers came here."

The bridge, considered an engineering marvel, is the world's longest suspension bridge—8,614 feet. Dr. David Steinman, designer and chief engineer for the bridge's construction, claims it also is one of the safest bridges in the world.

Construction of the span was a colossal project. It took 10,000 workers three years to build it. The structure contains one million tons of steel and cement. Its suspension cables, if unwoven, would reach twice around the world.

The center span—second longest in the world at 3,800 feet—hangs from two towers 552 feet high. The foundation for the towers is 200 feet below the surface of the water.

The bridge road is 100 feet above the straits and the overall length of the bridge is nearly five miles.

TAXES Increase 'fair'

By WES THORP
Panax Lansing Bureau

State Rep. Roy Smith (R-Arm Arbor), tells the opponents of his controversial property assessment bill to think of it as a post-Watergate political reform bill.

Many would have trouble in seeing the similarity between the two; however, he claims that his bill which would require the equalization of property assessments by property type "is just political reform."

Smith, a former Ypsilanti Township supervisor, said his bill "would just require basic common honesty in the assessing of property" for tax purposes.

The bill which was approved by the House of Representatives earlier this year has aroused the wrath of homeowners in several Detroit-area communities where petition drives have been started, urging defeat of the bill.

In those communities where residential properties have been traditionally under-assessed, many homeowners would have their property taxes doubled or tripled if the bill is passed into law.

Pointing to the chief opponent of his bill, State Rep. Lucille H. McCollough (D-Dearborn) and her support of the political reform bill which would result in more state control over political contribution, expenditures and other facets of politics, Smith said:

"It's absolutely inconsistent for her to support that bill (the political reform bill). It's the lowest form of political chicanery to be for one and not the other."

Mrs. McCollough feels that Smith's efforts to get his bill passed is a "typical Republican move" to ease the tax burden on big business and shift it to the "working people and the senior citizens."

Here is what Smith's bill would do: It would require separate equalization factors for each property type — residential, commercial, industrial, etc. — in the equalization of local property assessments.

State law requires all property to be assessed at 50 percent of its true cash value when computing property tax bills.

Because of the assessing practices of many local units of government, local property assessments run the gamut of percentages, from the real low to way high; however, the local assessments are, more often than not, lower than the required 50 percent and have to be equalized to bring them to the necessary level.

This is first done by the county equalization department which verifies the assessments in each local governmental unit and then decides its proper assessment level. If it is under the 50 percent level, then it adds a factor to that area's assessments, such as 1.26, or whatever.

This factor is then applied on all property assessments in that particular area, including residential, commercial and industrial.

Smith said that this is where the trouble point exists, resulting in a lack of uniformity in the amount of taxes paid by everybody in that governmental unit.

As an example, Smith points to the assessments in the City of Dearborn, Mrs. McCollough's legislative district. Homes in that city were found this year to be assessed at 15 percent of true cash value, while industrial property was at 32 percent and commercial at 33 percent.

When these property assessments are brought to the required 50 percent through an equalization factor of 2.15, homes are at 32.25 percent of true cash value, way under the required 50 percent, with industrial and commercial property assessed close to 70 percent.

That is "stealing," Smith said in describing the lack of uniformity between the assessments of the different property types.

His bill would require the owner of each type of property to pay a uniform share of property taxes.

For some homeowners, the equalization bill would mean an increase in their property tax bill of "seven, to eight, to 10 times what they are paying now."

This bill won't raise their property taxes to unreasonable levels, Smith claims. It will just bring them to the point where they should have been all along.

"Man, this is the only honest thing to do. How can anybody be against that?" he asks.

Huron to offer afternoon adult ed classes

For the first time in its 7-year history, the Huron school District will be offering adult high school completion, free to all registered, in the afternoon. The need for this afternoon programing has come about because of the lack of overtime being offered in local factories, giving workers time to attend classes to increase employment potential. Also, a large number of persons are unemployed, giving them an opportunity to increase experience in a variety of vocational classes.

Huron, which had the fourth largest adult education program in the state last year, constantly is looking for ways to better serve the persons in the downriver area.

Roger Benner, director of the program said: "The program will offer 25 free courses in the afternoon with emphasis upon vocational classes." A veteran that has not yet graduated from high school can earn $231 per month or more tax free.

Huron's program, which is funded by state aid, was second only to Detroit schools in enrolling the most fulltime students in the county last year. Starting with a meager 100 students in 1969, it had more than 8,000 in 1975. Benner expects 12,000 students this year.

Registration now is open and will run through Sept. 26 for classes beginning Sept. 3rd. Those seeking more information can call the school staff at 782-1505.

More than 300 classes are being offered in the day, afternoon and evening high school completion program. Courses emphasize vocational training, high school completion and language, cultural and other elective areas, as well as classes geared specially to needs of senior citizens. The program also will offer such classes as sub-contracting, do-it-yourself, and Electric wiring — a state accredited apprentice-journey-man prentice - journey-man course — that will fully prepare students for a vocation.

Van Buren seeks reports on accidents

Van Buren Township's attorney will be writing to the Wayne County Sheriff's Department requesting reports on all accidents occurring in the township, especially in the area of the water spring on Haggerty Road.

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees, at a recent meeting, requested the report from the attorney.

At that session, the trustees also approved the construction of a storage shed in Denton Road Cemetery and improvements at Belleville Lake Dam located at the east end of the lake.

Church's Lumber Co. was the successful bidder of two received by the township on the HEW wood shed.

The shed material will cost $361. Township labor will build the storage shed. Improvements at Gate 2 will consist of "stops" to control the height of lake level.

The township board authorized the purchase of "stops" from Boelter's Welding and Sales of Belleville at a low bid of $3,200.

Police report 'busy month'

The Belleville Police Department has reported a "very busy month" of activities during July.

Stinehour called the money figures "average" for any month.

At a recent Belleville City Council meeting Police Commissioner Howard Stinehour reported that the department was involved in 389 incidents, including issuing tickets and answering requests for aid from residents during the month.

"It shows they've been doing a pretty good job," he said during the meeting.

The Violations Bureau reported taking in $5,000 for tickets and the city took in $7,000 for licenses during the month.

Ailment sidelines resident

A long-time Belleville resident has been admitted to Annapolis Hospital in Wayne for an operation and a series of tests.

Elizabeth Tooley will be in Annapolis Hospital after being operated on Aug. 4, and will remain in the hospital a few days, according to her son.

Following her release, Mrs. Tooley will be recuperating at home before going back to her job at Meijer's Thrifty Acres in Ypsilanti Township.

CUFA collects grant to help poor save fuel

In response to the need of low-income families in Sumpter Township and Romulus for better insulation and winterization, Communities United For Action (CUFA) has applied for and received a grant for an energy conservation program.

The work will include installation of energy saving features, such as ceiling insulation and weather stripping around doors and windows. The result will be greater heat retention which will lower fuel costs for the poor.

A study, issued jointly by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Federal Energy Administration, indicates that the poor have been hardest hit by rising heating costs. Eleven percent of their income is spent on natural gas and electricity alone. In comparison, families with incomes of more than $16,000 spend only 2 percent of their earnings for these items.

CUFA will purchase the materials but, wherever possible, it will be the homeowner's responsibility to install them. In this manner, the money can be stretched to cover a greater number of homes. Work will be done on those client-owned homes whose source of income is Social Security or other public assistance. Besides Sumpter Township and Romulus, work also will proceed on homes in CUFA's six other target areas.

Homeowners in Sumpter who meet federal income guidelines and who think they may be eligible for the program should contact Georgia Bradford at 587-2089, or visit the CUFA Sumpter center at 28586 Sumpter Road, New Boston. In Romulus contact Helen Avery at 326-4220, or visit the center at 35351 Beverly Road. It is expected that a number of senior citizens living on social security, for example, will be eligible.

Celebrities fly for MD

Celebrity airplane rides, with media personalities as pilots, will be offered to the general public during a "Fly High for Dystrophy" benefit Saturday and Sunday Detroit City Airport.

Media personalities who are licensed private pilots will donate their aircraft and piloting services to the public, in return for contributions of $5 to Muscular Dystrophy (MD).

Media pilots include Don Haney, host of WXYZ-TV's "Haney's People;" Tom

Dean, WDEE's "Fem Forum" host; Bob Hynes, host of CKLW-TV's "Showtime;" Larry Thompson, CKLW-TV's "Mr. Whoodini;" and Mike Kenny, WJR, news reporters.

Sportscaster Jim Hendrick and nightclub entertainer Bob Posch also will take passengers for airborne tours.

Joining the media personalities will be pilots from the Ninety Nine's, International Organization of Women Pilots; the Civil Air Patrol; and other private pilots and flight schools.

Beyer hospital head posts smoking policy

The administrator of Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti, a Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) operated medical complex, has implemented a new restricted smoking policy at the facility. "We initiated this policy following a number of complaints from patients and visitors," said Ronald G. Czarneke. "And to date the response has been very positive."

Czarneke added that the only places where smoking still is allowed are the lobby, out-patient and emergency room waiting areas, designated tables in the employees' cafeteria, and some patient and employee lounges. As a result of the Beyer program, Fay Van Engelenburg, R.N., president of the Huron Valley Region of the Michigan Lung Association, presented to Czarneke a plaque in recognition of his efforts at promoting both safety and a smoke free environment for patients, employees and visitors alike.

Miss Van Engelenburg said the Lung Association wished to congratulate Beyer on acting before such action became mandated by legislation. "We are pleased to see the development of a program which recognizes the rights of the non-smoker, but does not completely restrict the rights of smokers," she added.

"I'd like to amplify Mss. Van Engelenburg's remarks," said Mark Reinstein, director of the Huron Valley Region who also was present for the award ceremony. "There can be little doubt that smoking is not only a health hazard for the smoker, but also has its effects on the non-smoker who inhales the smoke produced by smokers," he added.

Cigarettes are not sold in any PCHA hospital, and according to Czarneke they have not been sold for several years. "After all it is our function in hospital to work to protect health, and not injure it," he said.

Beyer Memorial is one of four PCHA hospitals. The others are Annapolis in Wayne, Outer Drive in Lincoln Park and Seaway in Trenton. A fifth facility, the Heritage Hospital, is under construction in the City of Taylor and will be opened to receive patients in mid-1977.

Huron expands adult ed

The Huron School District's expanding adult education program is in need of teachers for its evening high school completion program.

There is a need for teachers in all certified subject areas, with the requirement for employment a valid teaching certificate or possible certification (120 semester hours and 15 hours of education courses, either completed or presently enrolled.)

All classes in the adult education program run from 7 to 10 p.m. four nights a week.

ATTENTION ROMULUS!

A Message From ...

JAMES C. STEWART
PRESENT COUNCILMAN

JAMES C. STEWART
for MAYOR

The "Romulus of the future" did not die when voters went to the polls to defeat by nearly identical 3 1/2-1 margins two bond issues last Tuesday.

The results clearly indicated:

1. The people of Romulus don't want what the present Mayor is saying they want or need.
2. Taxpayers aren't getting what is really needed - Super Markets and Shopping Centers. No one can afford to wait for the present administration to really be responsive to the people especially when our city has so much vacant land for this type of business and eager citizens to patronize it.
3. Taxpayers cannot afford to pay more taxes to the city just because city government feels ideas of a few are wonderful things for all. (This is very poor judgment.)
4. Taxpayers won't pay more in taxes when so much of their tax dollar has been wasted for additional administration cost during the past two years. (This is very poor management.)
5. Taxpayers in Romulus must not be compared with those of neighboring cities because Romulus is unique - unlike any city around us.

NOTE: We have a large International Airport taking up the center of our city; we have acres of vacant land taking another large portion; we don't have "all those businesses and industry" to pay 83 percent of the tax load; and we don't have the population like other cities have to pay the tax balance.

The citizens of Romulus need a governing body with much better judgment and certainly better understanding of people's needs than what we have now and have had for the past two years.

A NEEDED CHANGE is the only answer to keep Romulus from bankruptcy. I am determined to see the effort for change continue so we can avoid such a problem. Everyone keep up the good work and.....

All those wanting to join our effort-

State fair offers fun for all

There will be rabbits, sheep, cows, horses and pigs, plus entertainment and food galore when the 1975 Michigan State Fair swings into action Friday with a 125-unit parade.

The parade will feature 20 bands, dozens of floats, beauty queens, drill teams and marchers, clowns, horses, fire engines and a Bicentennial Contastoga wagon, all to thrill young and old alike.

The parade will begin at 11 a.m. at Woodward Avenue and the Fisher Freeway and progress south down Woodward to Fort Street. The parade marshal, will be Deano Day of WDEE-Radio.

The fair officially will get underway at 1 p.m. when the ribbon-cutting ceremony is held at the State Fairgrounds. The official opening will be at the Woodward Avenue gate of the fairgrounds.

Invited to take part in the opening day activities are Gov. William F. Milliken, Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young and a variety of state legislators. Members of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the State Fair also will be on hand.

The State Fair program for this year features "something for everyone and the most complete entertainment package we have had in years," said Lester M. Lund, fair general manager.

The opening day activities will include a 700-foot high wire walk by the 70-year-old patriarch of wirewalkers, Karl Wallenda; performances by the rock group Blood, Sweat and Tears at 4:30 and 8:30 p.m. and the American Thrill Show, featuring the 36-degree spiral suicide jump. Tickets are necessary for the latter's afternoon and evening shows. However, ticketholders will be eligible for a free set of tires to be given away at every performance and a car to be given away after the last thrill show performance on Aug. 31.

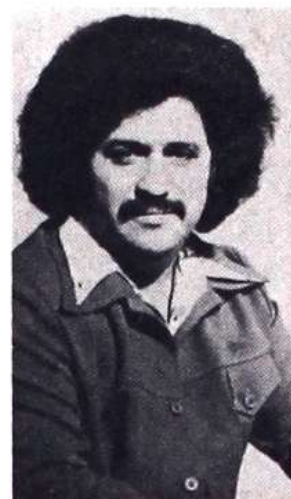

The State Fair program also includes daily performances, exhibits of the best of Michigan's livestock and agricultural products and two midways—including a 10-act state fair entrance tickets. A demolition derby will round out the fair's schedule, with shows at 2 and 7 p.m. Labor Day. There is an admission charge. Gates to the 1975

Michigan State Fair will open at 8 a.m. daily and will close at 10 p.m. Admission is $2 for persons 12 years of age and older, 50 cents for youngsters 8 through 11, and children under 8 years free.

At invitational Swim Club gains 1st

Two firsts and two seconds were among the honors brought back by the Belleville Swim Club from the Metropolitan Beach Invitational Swim Meet. The club swimmers, all in the 13-and-over age group, took a first place in the 200-meter medley relay with swimmers Howard Renton, Jeff Liedel, Phil Berger and Mark Stoelton. Their time was 2:13.8.

The Belleville Club also took a second in the relays, taking the 200-meter free relay with a time of 1:53.8. Team members were Stoelton, Renton, Liedel and Mike Anguilm. The team of Anguilm, Terry Caves, Chris Renton and Chris Liedel, also had a seventh place in the 200-meter medley relay with a time of 2:24.9. Jeff Liedel, former Belleville High swimming star, now at Bowling Green University in Ohio, swimming with the Tiger team for the summer, took a first in the 100-meter freestyle, a second in the 200-meter freestyle and an eighth in the 100-meter breaststroke. His times were 59.7, 2:15.5, and 1:25.3 in the three events. Also swimming in the individual events for the club was Howard Renton, utility man for the Belleville South Junior High team this past season. Renton, who already has been spotted for the high school line-up next year, was fourth in the 200-meter backstroke with a time of 2:35.4; eighth in the 100-meter backstroke with 1:16.4, and sixth in the 200-meter freestyle. His time was 2:21.5. Mark Stoelton, standout sophomore at Belleville High this past year, and Suburban Eight 50-meter freestyle champion, got a fifth place in the individuals, with a time of 1:02.2 in the 100-meter freestyle.

Sports

Also competing in the individual events, a newcomer to the club, Ward Tomich, got a seventh in the 100-meter backstroke and a seventh place in the 200-meter freestyle.

Other club swimmers in attendance at the meet were Janna Harris and Tim Frey.

This summer is the first time many of the Tiger swimmers have been exposed to outdoor swimming and 50-meter swimming, according to John Stosick.

Cheryl Neupert and Carolyn Castleberry. Unlike the local big cats in the major leagues, The Detroit Tigers, Belleville's Little League Junior Softball team, the Belleville Bobcats, can boast a successful season this year. Charles May, league president, and George Brown, league vice-president, gave the team a trophy for not only taking first place honors, but also posting the best won-lost record in the history of the Belleville Junior Softball Little League. The Bobcats were sponsored by the Jerry's Foxy Lady Beauty Salon in Belleville.

Eagles attend football camp

The Romulus Eagles varsity football squad is attending its second annual football camp this week. The camp is at Round Lake in the Irish Hills.

Hosted by long-time Romulus resident, Don Ellis, the camp looks to be as successful as last year's endeavors, a spokesman said.

The Eagles coaching staff has taken from 35 to 40 varsity candidates to the camp where the hopeful gridders will enjoy swimming, fishing and a chance to build team unity along with the vigorous conditioning program, the spokesman added.

"The camp also provides a chance for players to become well acquainted with the staff as well as fellow teammates," said head Coach Tom Baldwin.

Funds for this year's camp have come from contributions from the Romulus Rotary Club and the Romulus Jaycees.

Cobras take fourth place

Although it only took fourth place in the league, the Senior Cobras beat the first place team — Trinity Free Will Baptist — during Babe Ruth Senior Baseball action in Ypsilanti. And Belleville's Bruce Root struck out 12 and only allowed four hits in the 6-3 ball game.

The game was marked by three home runs by the Senior Cobras team. Rusty Rhodes hit a homer in the first and fifth, and Duane Davis came across with another homer in the fifth for the Cobras. The game was the last in the season for the Cobras, which amassed eight wins and 12 losses for the fourth place.

AUTO FACTS

by Jr. Kosin

The best time to remove a stain from the seats of your car is immediately after it appears, and before it has a chance to set. When that is not possible, wipe or blot up the spot as thoroughly as you can and resolve to work on the stain at your first opportunity. Never use carbon tetrachloride. Its fumes can result in serious injury or even death. Be careful even with commercial cleaning compounds; some are flammable or toxic.

Be sure to check any cleaning compounds or replacement parts you use on your car's engine as well as on the interior. Experienced personnel at KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster, will be happy to help you choose the proper parts and accessories for any foreign or American car. We have just about everything you need to keep your car running at its best. Ask about our complete machine shop service! We do all kinds of repair service from turning brake drums to overhauling the engine. Know as the "House of a Million Parts," KOSIN'S is your one-stop auto parts shop. Call us at 563-3894. We are open daily until 8 P.M., Saturdays until 5 P.M.

How to have a great family vacation without going too far.

Stay right in your own backyard. Chances are, there are plenty of exciting things to do as a family that aren't that far away. Like visiting a national park. Go fishing. Or camping. Or taking a short trip to the nearest big city or point of interest. And remember. If you're a little short of money for your vacation, see HFC about a Traveloan. You may borrow up to $1500 from Household Finance to pay for your next family vacation. And that'll go a long way. Even if you don't.

Break from money crunch

Edison helps customers save on cooling bill

Western Wayne County residents concerned with the rising cost of electricity, but trying to beat the summer heat, may find these helpful hints from the Detroit Edison Co. a cooling break from the money crunch.

With the height of the hot weather season fast approaching, most people probably are looking for ways to enjoy a cool, comfortable summer at reasonable cost. There are ways to beat the heat and save money too, according to Edison spokesmen.

For example, some air conditioners use more electricity than others to cool the same area, said Robert Baldwin, a planning specialist in Edison's Customer and Marketing Policy Department.

The efficiency of almost any unit—window, central or small commercial—can be determined by what's called its Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER).

"An air conditioner with an EER of eight or higher is a high efficiency unit," he said. "A special tag which indicates the EER number appears on most models, or your dealer probably can tell you the EER number of any unit that interests you."

"Although a high energy efficient air conditioner probably will cost a little more to buy, that difference can be made up because it will cost less to operate."

Donald Cochell, space conditioning adviser for Detroit Edison, said both room and central air conditioners with an EER of 10 will cost only half as much to operate as those with an EER of 5.

"During the course of one summer alone this could amount to a savings of as much as $63," he added.

If the EER number of an air conditioner is not readily available, it can be computed simply by dividing its cooling capacity (BTUs) by the watts it uses.

For example, a 6,000 BTU air conditioner that uses 750 watts has an EER of eight.

"High efficiency air conditioners provide economy for the users and also help Detroit Edison insure a reliable energy supply during the summer by reducing the peak load when energy demand is at its highest," Cochell said.

"Our marketing surveys indicate that if 10 percent of the room air conditioners and 50 percent of the central units sold to residential customers in our service area this year were high efficiency units, the company could reduce its projected summer peak load by more than 7,000 kilowatts."

In addition to the EER, Cochell pointed out that proper placement and maintenance, along with adequate wiring, will further enhance the efficiency of any unit selected.

The Edison spokesmen also offered some other tips to help beat the heat or to save energy in general:

—When vacationing, adjust the refrigerator temperature control so that the unit runs a little warmer than normal. Turn back about one or two points on the dial. And be sure to shut off your air conditioner.

—Light bulbs, TV and radio sets should be turned off when no one is using them. This will save energy and eliminate unwanted heat in summer. Unplug instant-on TV sets when away for an extended time. They use some electricity all the time.

—Proper cooking methods are important. Keep utensil lids tightly closed to prevent heat escape. Whenever possible, use the oven to prepare several dishes at one time for efficient use of heat. Keep the oven door closed, peeking wastes heat. And prepare small meals in groups which cover topics such as home wiring, freezing methods, and use and care of electric appliances.

"We've prepared a pamphlet, entitled 'How to Get Your Money's Worth From Your Electric Air Conditioner,' which gives tips about air conditioners."

This brochure can be obtained, along with information about other Edison energy saving programs, by calling 237-9161 or by contacting your local customer office.

Groups to host picnic

It appears as though some Florida residents know where to go to get some good "down home" cooked meals in Michigan.

Some 115 children, slated to participate in the U.S. Special Olympics in Mt. Pleasant, who arrived at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus from Tallahassee, Fla., had made arrangements to stop by the Romulus Kentucky Fried Chicken store on Wayne Road for their meals.

According to Theodore Hooten Sr., owner of the business, the travelers contacted him prior to coming to Romulus.

The 115 children were slated to participate in the Special Olympics for handicapped children at Central Michigan University last weekend.

The residents of Oakbrook on Eureka Road near Middle Belt Road are gearing up for their third annual old fashioned family picnic, to be held from 12 to 6 p.m. Aug. 23.

The picnic, sponsored by the Oakbrook Senior Citizens Club and the Oakbrook Nursery School Mothers, will feature food and entertainment, along with family games.

Persons in Oakbrook interested in attending the picnic need only show up at the Oakbrook Clubhouse on Elm Street.

The picnic committee also is selling raffle tickets with prizes being a television set, clock-radio and wine rack.

Tickets can be obtained by calling either Linda Serafin at 941-4057 or Pat Grenillo at 941-6996.

A Belleville coed in her junior year at Western Michigan University is Kalamazoo has been awarded an academic scholarship, beginning with the fall semester.

Kim L. Hogan of Hull Road will receive of stipend of between $100 and $700, depending on her financial need. The scholarship is renewable, if adequate grades are maintained.

Watershed council seeks tighter controls

The Huron River Watershed Council has requested state level action to tighten up administration of the 1972 Inland Lakes and Streams Act in the interest of maintaining and further improving water quality in the Huron River watershed and in other areas of the state.

In a letter to Joan Wolfe, Natural Resources Commission and chairman of a special committee set up to review current administration of the 1972 law, Council Executive Secretary Owen Jansson noted several areas of major concern with present implementation procedures.

Citing a recent example in Washtenaw County,

Jansson said there had been little or no effort on the part of Department of Natural Resources staff to keep local units of government and others involved in the review process informed on the handling of the permit application.

Under the act, permits are required for any dredging or filling of bottomlands, changing of natural water flow, creating or altering artificial waterways, and for similar activities.

In addition to a major communications problem, the letter to Miss Wolfe noted that on occasion notices of permit applications never have been received or have contained information totally inadequate for analysis of the proposed action, making it difficult for affected local units of government to appraise given proposals.

The council statement noted that in some cases the problem primarily was a function of budgetary and related manpower shortages and in that sense it was at least partially a legislative consideration.

RESOLUTION 75-606

WHEREAS: House Bill 4602 as introduced by Representatives Elliott, Raymond W. Hood, Scott and Bonior would amend Section 13 of Act No. 1 of the Public Acts of the Extra Session of 1936, entitled as amended "Michigan Employment Security Act" as amended by Act No. 231 of the Public Acts of 1971, being Section 421.13 of the Compiled Laws of 1970 to require a report of prospective job openings to the commission or to the employing unit's employees or former employees as the commission may by rule prescribe as necessary to carry out this act; and

WHEREAS: This requirement would impose an unnecessary and costly burden upon the City, most specifically, in the area of review in that most municipalities, certainly the City of Romulus, are mandated to hire residents only; and

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus that it does herewith set forth its opposition to House Bill 4602.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution by forwarded to the attention of Representatives Elliott, Raymond W. Hood, Scott and Bonior, Senator William Faust, State Representatives Edward Mahalak and Gary Owen and to surrounding communities within Wayne County.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Block, Coleman, Lee, Stewart, Trumble, Oakley, McAnally. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.

75-608

9a. Motion by Block, supported by Coleman, that Council adopt Resolution 75-608 (Opposition to House Bills 5188 and 5189):

RESOLUTION 75-608

WHEREAS: Representatives Hunsinger and Brotherton have introduced House Bill 5188, a bill to amend Act No. 279 of the Public Acts of 1909 as amended and House Bill 5189, a bill to amend Act No. 207 of the Public Acts of 1921 as amended; and

WHEREAS: These Bills would prohibit local municipalities from adopting equitable zoning laws for the protection of its citizens as they would affect the collection, preservation, assembly or restoration of old vehicles; and

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus and its laws are sensitive to the needs of individuals engaged in the aforementioned activities, nonetheless, recognize its responsibility to the community as a whole.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus that it does herewith set forth its opposition to House Bills 5188 and 5189.

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the attention of Representatives Hunsinger and Brotherton, Senator Faust, State Representative Mahalak and Owen and those surrounding communities within Wayne County.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Lee, Block, Coleman, Oakley, McAnally. Nays - Stewart. Excused - Trumble. Motion carried.

9b. No Action.

75-609

According to Mahalak

House bill would increase sharing revenue

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) that the state revenue sharing bill passed by the House will mean an increase to municipalities of the 38th District.

Under the new revenue sharing plan, as passed by the House for the fiscal year which started July 1, the new increase will start at $20.50 per capita to $25. These are based on at least one mill of local property tax to over 5.5 local property tax mills.

"Using the population figures of local municipalities and an amount of local property tax millage, we have found that many municipalities in the 38th district will be receiving an increase in revenue sharing," Mahalak said. "However, a few townships levying less than one mill will receive less than last year."

Under Section 20 as inserted into the revenue sharing bill, a city, village or township which levies at least 1 mill shall not receive less than last fiscal year.

Mahalak added: "One important element of the bill is that it allows local units of government to use the shared revenue for virtually any purpose, with no strings attached. This permits local people to put the money to use where they feel it is most needed."

Mahalak pushed for the per capita increase to meet the rapid increases in the cost of providing local government services, caused by the general inflationary trend in the economy. This kind of action by the Legislature should have a stabilizing effect on the local tax rate, he added.

He said he is confident the bill will be readily approved by the Senate and signed by the governor.

Developer gives up on rezoning court suit

At least one parcel of Van Buren Township land which has been requested for use as apartments will remain zoned for single family housing.

The township has received information from Wayne County Circuit Court that Franklin Builders, litigants in a suit against the township to rezone 10 acres of land north of Ecorse Road between Haggerty Road and Morton-Taylor Road, dropped the case.

"It's good news to the township," said Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer. "It has been the township's contention in the case that the land should remain zoned for single family housing, because nothing but single family zoning lies all around it."

"And now the case is dropped."

Gollwitzer added that he understands Franklin dropped the case because a land contract for the purchase of the acreage lapsed during three years of legal maneuvering

The suit was brought against the township when the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees turned down Franklin's request for a rezoning. Gollwitzer said the decision was made by the township board because of the surrounding single family zonings and because altering the zoning on the 10-acre parcel would open up land adjacent to it for multiple use.

The dropping of the Franklin suit may be only one part of a major disagreement with a developer in the township.

According to Gollwitzer, the principal owners of Franklin Builders are the same as Seligman and Associates, another major developer.

"We have another court case coming up with Seligman on a 33-acre parcel of land on Denton Road near Michigan Avenue," Gollwitzer continued. "That property lies between the Denton Subdivision and some commercial and industrial zoning along Michigan Avenue."

"Seligman wanted another apartment zoning, and the township board turned that down because nothing seemed to justify the change from the existing single family designation to the multiple requested."

No date has been set on the Denton Road zoning.

EXERCISE PERIOD — Though the mounts were keyed for competition, they also needed exercise during the annual Wayne County 4H Fair last week in Van Buren Township. More than 100 horses were entered in various judgments and competitions during the 6-day fair. Some 90,000 residents attended the annual event this year. — The Enterprise Roman photo.

An unfamed tongue engaged in gossip can easily scar a reputation. Most everyone agrees this should not happen but... it can and does happen. It happens even though people in general realize scandalous gossip or social criticism can never give commendable status to anyone. Is there a formula or a philosophy for social conduct that can help eliminate careless remarks or gossip? Indeed there is. And it is quite simple.

The prescription is contained in the Hippocratic Oath written 2500 years ago... It reads in part: "All that may come to my knowledge in the exercise of my profession - or outside of my profession - or in daily commerce with men, which ought not to be spread abroad, I will keep secret and never reveal." Hippocrates, the ancient "father of medicine" established this code of ethical behavior for physicians 25 centuries ago. It is still respected by physicians today. Would it not be a good rule of living for everyone?...

Manual labor may solve park vandalism woe

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has endorsed Commissioner John J. Korney's suggestion that a stint of manual labor might discourage park vandalism.

His colleagues gave Korney's resolution strong endorsement.

The resolution passed at a recent meeting, urges judges to consider sentencing persons convicted of "destructive or disruptive acts" in the county parks to a term of work in the parks.

Vandalism and litter in the nine county parks will cost the taxpayers $650,000 this year and tie up park workers who otherwise could be improving park facilities, Korney said.

Commenting on his resolution, Korney said: "We believe that to sentence offenders to work in the parks, repairing other people's destruction and pickup other people's litter, would have a deterrent effect and save the taxpayers some money."

"But this resolution certainly is not an attempt to tell the judges what to do. We realize that cir-

The Glaab Agency offers a full line of insurance service, estate planning and various investment opportunities.

Huron offers testing

The Huron School District again will administer the G.E.D. Test.

The test, commonly called High School Equivalency Examination, makes it possible for men and women that have left school without receiving their diplomas to receive an equivalency certificate. Huron High School also will give credits toward actual High School Diplomas upon successful completion of the examination.

Testing begins Monday and will last until Wednesday from 6 to 10 p.m. The test is free, if the individual is enrolled in Huron's Adult Education Class or is a resident of the school district. The cost of the test is $15 for persons out of the district not enrolled in the program.

Bingo: Win prizes for small cost

By KAY DeBORD
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

Pick a day — any day — and there's bound to be a bingo game going on somewhere in Wayne or Westland, or both.

Since the legalization of the game of numbers and markers, there has been a surge of people to churches, halls and auditoriums, all intent on winning cash prizes at the smallest possible cost.

There is no stereotype of a bingo player. They come in all sizes, shapes and ages, and both men and women are addicted to the activity that has become the mainstay in supporting a number of worthwhile programs.

The bingo games have paid for religious educational programs, for the programs for the retarded and handicapped, for the re-roofing of a church building, for a Sunday School bus, for senior citizen trips and projects, and for many other needs of non-profit groups and organizations.

Churches are the subject of innumerable jokes, cartoons and quips on their affinity for bingo players, particularly the Catholic churches, who have long recognized that the game that so many persons find engrossing also can help fill the bottomless financial well of church expenses.

Some people are "once-in-a-while players," while others have a them and look to their regular night (day or afternoon) out as an outlet, a getting-a-way-from-the-house activity.

Bingo is outnumbers with senior citizens, who find the winning for budgeting they can spend a few hours in congenial company and if they are lucky, the outing pays for itself.

A Wayneite said: "If my wife didn't play bingo each week, there would be no living with her." And his wife, who was present, agreed.

"I don't read a lot, the kids are all grown, you can visit people and entertain just so often, so I go and play bingo, sometimes twice a week," she added.

Is it expensive? No more than any other form of entertainment. It depends on how much the individual is dedicated to the game.

In talking to several bingo fanciers, a number of personality sidelights were developed. One woman from Westland admitted to "cheating" with her grocery money in order to play the game.

"My husband handles all the money, and this is my only way of getting out," she said, adding "I think he knows, but he doesn't really care as long as there's enough to eat on the table."

Another woman said she set aside a certain amount to begin with, "then I add my winnings to that."

Still another, a Wayne resident said that "my husband laughs at me, but he doesn't know how much I have won." She added that her "profits" generally are used to provide some extras for the family, like vacation spending money.

Bingo plays an important part in non-budgeted expenses of a number of churches. One area church even had to enlarge its hall for the game at the expense of space in the church sanctuary.

Those not familiar with the game are advised to take it very seriously, if they attend a session. Their fellow-players are too absorbed in watching their cards and listening for the call of the numbers to engage in frivolous conversations.

Some are busy watching as many as 20 cards at a time, according to one checker at a church game. That's average. There are some who have the power to concentrate on as many as 40 cards at a time.

At the hall this writer visited in the interest of "research," the cards were five for $1, or a 25 cents each, plus the $1 "door" card that starts off the session. There were 12 regular games, several specials and a jackpot game that could bring a winner as much as the $500 limit set by the state bingo commissioner.

Despite claims of "foul" that have been heard at times, the game of bingo is one that is on the up and up, and just plain luck has an important part in the outcome. In fact, one woman said she had a lucky sweater and that she would wear it if it was 100 degrees in the shade while she was playing the game. And it must work, based on her record of winning. Others admit to such lucky tokens as rings, toys, articles of clothing and selecting special dates on which to concentrate on playing the game.

As with most means of relaxation, it generally depends on the individual on just how much they get out of playing.

And if they are among the losers, it's some consolation to know their losses are helping to support a worthwhile cause.

If there was a slogan for bingo, it could urge the public to "support your favorite charity (church, etc.), play bingo!"

BINGO

It's more than just pasttime for seniors

By KAREN PESTA
The Enterprise-Roman Special Writer

Every week church halls and school basements are buzzing with the excitement of persons hoping to win $500 on a 25-cent card. What's all the excitement about? Why, it's bingo!

According to Charles Dean, deputy state commissioner of Bingo, the game is becoming a sophisticated form of gambling and isn't just a pastime for senior citizens.

Bingo is gaining popularity as a form of entertainment, asserts Dean. Not only does the bingo fever attract young and old alike, but also the handicapped. Some organizations, which hold bingo games, supply braille cards for the blind, and lighted boards for the deaf. As evidence of the games' popularity, some 23,200 persons attend bingo games each week, Dean said.

The Bingo Commission, authorized in 1973, is part of the State Lottery Bureau. When bingo became legal in June of that year the bureau was organized. Dean said his office wants to see the game conducted in a friendly, social and noncommercial manner.

To qualify for a bingo operators license, the organization must be a Michigan based non-profit organization. It must be of a five-year standing or have tax exempt status in the state. All net proceeds must be used for lawful purposes by the organization. If licensed, the organization is subject to the provisions of the bingo law and any rules of the Bureau of the State Lottery.

Dean said more than 18,000 licenses are issued each year in Michigan. Besides regular licenses, the bureau issues special licenses for one day and up to seven consecutive days.

There are six categories of organizations which qualify for a bingo license. They are educational; fraternal; religious; veterans; service, such as a lodge or chapter of a national or state group, and senior citizens organizations.

The purpose of the Bingo Commissioner is to monitor rules and regulations.

He added that other forms of gambling, such as raffles and millionaires parties are not recognized by the state as legal forms of gambling. The only forms of gambling which are legal are horseracing, the state lottery and bingo games. Dean maintains that local prosecutors condone church raffles because they are fund raising projects for a non-profit organization.

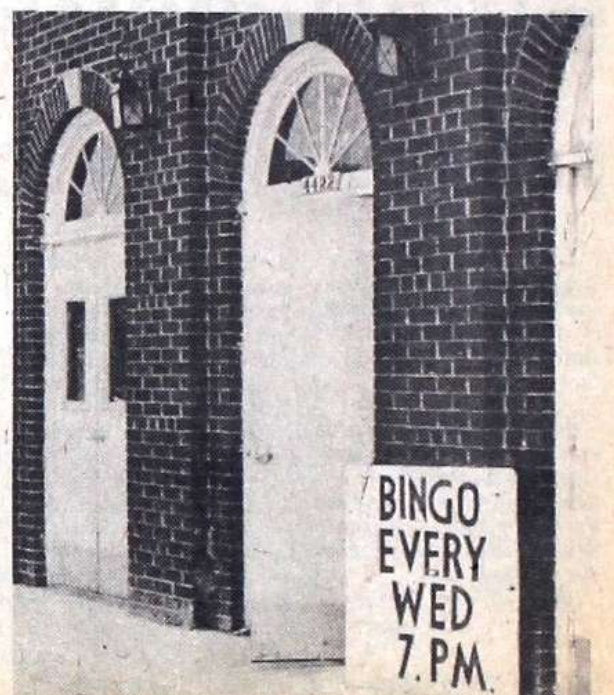

Under the state law, persons playing bingo or persons working at a bingo game must be 18 years of age. It also is required by law that all rules, card prices and the price structure must be posted by means of a program or poster.

An organization holding bingo games cannot charge over $1 for admission. The price of admission includes one bingo card. All regular bingo cards and special cards cannot exceed 25 cents.

Dean said prizes cannot exceed the value of $500 in any single game, and on any single occasion prizes cannot exceed $2,000. Merchandise may be awarded as prizes, but alcoholic beverages may not be awarded.

Miss Stevens cruises Atlantic coastline

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 699-4021

Suzanne Stevens of Liberty Street just returned from a week's cruise off the coast of Maine aboard a Windjammer sailing vessel. The ship, which is 100 years old, visited the different harbors and islands along the coast.

Mrs. Melvin C. Budd of the Expressway has returned home after having spent some time in Baltimore, Maryland, with her sister, Helen Hook, who has been hospitalized following a heart attack.

Miss Hook, who was able to return home with her, will be making her home with the Budds.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morton of Sumpter Road recently enjoyed a 2-week vacation in northern Michigan, with a week spent at Muskellonge Lake in the Upper Peninsula.

Guests this past week at the Amos Johnson home on Roland Street were his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, from Ocala, Fla. While here they all spent a few days in northern Michigan before leaving for home last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Graham of Liberty Street spent several days last week visiting relatives and friends at Toronto, Ottawa and Picton, Ont., Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DeBoer of Bradenton, Fla., were weekend guests of the latter's aunt and uncle, Mrs. Henry Sager and Marvin Meerse, of West Columbia Avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Tator, Sharlene and Robert of High Street and the doctor's brother Lawrence Tator from Gulfport, Fla., recently returned home from Albany, N.Y., where they attended the 45th wedding anniversary of another brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Tator, of Albany. The surprise party and family gathering was planned and given by the couple's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mathews.

Mrs. Henry Sager and brother Marvin Meerse of West Columbia Avenue, were among several others who were recent luncheon guests of former Belleville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kidd, of Ida.

Mrs. Vinton McAtee and family were recent evening dinner guests of the Norman McAtees of New Boston in celebration of the 6th birthday of their daughter, Christine.

Mrs. John (Hazel) Bryan of Wabash Street was a recent guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Kuehne, at Wolf Lake near Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Groeschner and daughter, Kari, arrived last week from Norwalk, Conn. to spend a few days with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Emerson of Madelon Street.

Mrs. Ted (Eva) Luper of Karr Road was in Indiana earlier this month to attend a reunion of the College Breakfast Club of Manchester College held at the homes of Mrs. John Donaldson at Mexico and Mrs. Charles Miller at Logansport. The get-together is held annually.

On Aug. 9, Mr. and Mrs. William Stambaugh of Edgemont Street and their son, Paul and wife Sally, of Milan attended the golden wedding anniversary celebration and open house of Mrs. Stambaugh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hurshel Van Hoose, at Paintsville, Ky.

The affair, which was held at the junior high school, was attended by seven of the couple's eight children and their families. A buffet meal was served to about 150 relatives and friends. A special gift from their children will be an album of pictures taken at the gathering.

Jae Soon Song from Minneapolis, Minn., has been a guest this past week at the Columbia Avenue home of Mrs. Henry Sager and brother, Marvin Meerse.

Recently, Mr. and Mrs. George Haft of Church Street, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hyde and sons of West Huron River Drive and Kimberly Jahner of Tecumseh, motored to Flint where they attended the musical, "Peter Pan" put on by the Kinley Players.

To fall lineup

'Y' adds eight courses

Western Wayne County residents looking for something different to do this fall may want to sample some of the eight new classes being offered by the YWCA of Western Wayne County.

Old favorites like swimming, tennis, Belly dance, yoga, guitar, sewing, bridge, sketching and painting, rug hooking, international folk dancing and ballroom dancing will join new daytime classes in everyday gourmet cooking, practical self-defense, 3-in-1 fine arts which includes introduction to batik, weaving and enameling. Also a quilting class and a stitchery class that will give individual instruction in knitting, crocheting and needlepoint. A playroom is available for walking tots to 5 years old while parents attend classes.

Also an experimental tots art class that encourages parents to learn interesting art skills with their tots so they can do them together at home will be offered.

New evening classes are square or round dancing for all ages, variety crafts (something different each week plus a 5-week holiday session), and beginning backgammon for those who want an interesting, fun and inexpensive pastime, a practical self-defense class will be taught by Beth Meikos and a ballet exercise class by Nick Mickalakis.

Businesswomen hear report on convention

A potluck dinner with a large variety of dishes was part of the recent meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club.

Held at the home of Vera Petraska, 25 members and four guests—Cora Horton, Alta Hulsizer, Sharon Petraska and Esther Knagg—were present for the meeting.

Among the activities was a report by club president Barbara Mitchell on the recent national convention in Las Vegas. Mrs. Mitchell served as Belleville delegate to the mid-July convention, with Ruth Davis serving as alternate delegate. Member Helen White also was in attendance at the convention.

One of the main issues passed at the convention was that the annual gathering will not be held "in any state which has not ratified the Equal Rights Amendment," Mrs. Mitchell reported.

There were 90 delegates in all from the State of Michigan at the convention, including the three from Belleville and three from Ypsilanti. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. White concluded their trip out west with a post-convention visit to San Francisco while Mrs. Mitchell returned to the Belleville community for a family reunion.

Among other business conducted at the club meeting was the selection of a date for the fall rummage sale. The club will be hosting the endeavor on Sept. 6.

The next meeting of the Belleville club will be Sept. 1 at the Denton Methodist Church.

In program

French student visits Muses

The Muse Family of 12509 Beck Road in Belleville will have a French touch in the home this month as they host an 18-year-old French student as their guest through an International Cultural Exchange Program.

The visitor, Benoit Levesque, arrived Aug. 4 to spend the month with Dr. and Mrs. Richard Muse and their daughter, 18, and son, 16.

Benoit is one of 175 French students who arrived a few weeks ago to live with families in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

A pharmacy student in his native country, Benoit speaks excellent English, according to Mrs. Muse. He is the first exchange student the family has had, and if the experience with Benoit is any indication, the family may have more visitors, she said.

This is the first time in the United States for the French student, and both he and the family are enjoying the cultural exchange, according to Mrs. Muse.

He will return to France to finish his schooling on Sept. 2.

Belle Sears re-unite family for annual clan get-together

The Lake St. Clair home of Mr. and Mrs. Mke Popa was the site of a recent reunion of the Belle Sears family.

The gathering which came from Ypsilanti, Belleville, Livonia, Madison Heights, Detroit, Mt. Clemens and New Boston, enjoyed a pot luck dinner with a variety of dishes and desserts.

Lakeside dinner tops meeting for VFW auxiliary

A potluck dinner at the vacation home of Shirley Cullin on Little Portage Lake served to bring together members of the V.F.W. Auxiliary Post 4434 of Belleville recently.

Attending the gathering were Florence Hunter, Gladys Bordt, Helen Matewicz, Lauramae Steirs, Anne Molik, Leona Agge, Marie Ocholik, Esther Burlingame and Edna Harris.

Guests at the cottage were Mary Fry, Jan Wyman, Alice Evand and Doris Wick of Florida, the mother of Mrs. Steirs.

The auxiliary will conduct its regular business meeting tomorrow, with a social gathering planned for Sept. 4. Details of the latter have not been firmed up yet, according to the auxiliary president.

Bethany marks 13th

Sunday will be a special day for the Bethany Baptist Church of Romulus. The church congregation will be observing the 13th anniversary of the religious center with an all-day service.

Planned visitors include the Home Gate Quartet of Dayton, Ohio, the Gospeltones Quartete of Southgate, and The Rev. Harold Clark as the guest speaker during the afternoon program.

According to The Rev. Marvin Green, pastor and founder of Bethany Baptist Church, the celebration is open to the public. Participants are asked to bring a picnic lunch as part of the observance.

Smith pushes to get equipment to clean townships' drain ditches

Acting on a proposal by Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith of Belleville, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has approved $2,500 for equipment for cleaning drains in Sumpter and Van Buren Townships this summer.

The equipment will be used by 25 students, employed under the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), administered by the County Office of Manpower.

Smith said the appropriation was necessary because the townships lacked funds for items such as boots, gloves, chain saws, shovels and other hand tools.

Heavier equipment, including a bulldozer and a machine that grinds trees into chips, as well as operators and supervisory personnel already have been provided by the Wayne County Drain Commission.

The students have six more weeks of work remaining in the eight week program, which is a pilot project that will expand into other areas as more CETA funds become available, Smith said. The 25 students are part of the county's $1.4 million comprehensive summer employment program this year, which includes an approximately 1,800 jobs and work on drains

Panax Corp. releases 2nd quarter earnings

Panax Corp., Michigan based newspaper publishing and printing firm, has posted its second quarter and first half net earnings after taxes.

Net earnings for the second quarter and six months ending June 30, improved substantially over the same period in 1974.

The 1975 second quarter net earnings were $141,788 or $0.12 per share. This compares with 1974 second quarter earnings of $80,219 or $0.07 per share.

"Our operating divisions have continued their strong performance through the second quarter of the year, overcoming the most serious economic obstacles we have faced in our industry in 30 years," said John P. McGoff, president of Panax Corp.

For the first six months of this year, Panax had net earnings of $94,816 or $0.08 per share, compared to the net earnings of $20,095 for the first half of 1974, or $0.02 per share.

"We are optimistic for the prospects for the remainder of 1975 and expect a significantly improved performance over 1974," McGoff added. The second quarter net earnings from Suburban Publishers Press were not available at this time and are not included in the figures.

Panax management believes Suburban Publishers Press' net earnings may have a material impact on the second quarter and first six months net earnings of the corporation.

Panax is the parent company of Associated Newspapers, publishers of The Daily Eagle, The Canton Eagle, The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman.

Eager Beavers attend ball game

The Romulus Jaycees have hosted the Eager Beavers and residents of the Romulus House on a trip to Tiger Stadium.

Eight Jaycees took 12 Eager Beavers and three residents of the Romulus House to a late-July game between the Detroit Tigers and the Cleveland Indians.

And according to Jaycee President Tom Von Glahn, even though the Tigers lost 6-0, the youngsters and the Jaycees enjoyed the game.

Following the trip to Detroit, the youngsters were treated to free hamburgers, cokes and french fries, courtesy of the McDonald's Restaurant on Merriman Road north of Van Buren Road in Westland.

The Jaycee trip is the second annual one to Tiger stadium.

The youngsters, many of whom never had seen a live professional baseball game, viewed the event from grandstand seats, purchased by the Jaycees.

Park closing eyed

A committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has proposed to close Edward Hines Park 1½ hours earlier and is recommending authority for the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) to shut down other county parks sooner, if it chooses.

The proposal would permit visitors in the Hines park from 5 a.m. to 10 p.m. only. Present hours are from 5 a.m. to 11:30 p.m., 90 minutes longer.

The board's Public Works Committee also is considering several other proposals received Aug. 5 in a report from the WCRC Parks Department on control of vandalism.

It is estimated that vandalism and litter in the nine county parks cost taxpayers $650,000 annually and occupy park employees who otherwise would be improving the facilities.

According to park officials, the most frequent and serious offenses occur in Edward Hines Park where damage repeatedly has been severe, and where some residents along its 17-mile length say they are enduring "a reign of terror" from unruly young adults.

Other proposals under study by the committee include more park employees, including enough Sheriff's deputies to establish a "sub-station" in Middle Rouge Parkway, better lighting and a ban on all "no deposit, no return" containers.

Other possible restrictions suggested in the parks report would ban deposits of all rubbish, litter and garbage, with fines for anyone leaving picnic refuse in a park area, and a prohibition on all alcoholic beverages, including beer, from April 1 through June 15 each year.

Another suggestion in the report would establish a cash reward program with payment to citizens upon the arrest and conviction of vandals. Under this plan, parents would be financially responsible for damages caused by children found guilty.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES

The meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Supervisor Gollwitzer called the meeting to order at 7:30 P.M. Members present were: Supervisor Gollwitzer, Trustees Domen, Maton, Kureth and Kelly, and Deputy Clerk Soja. Absent were: Clerk Cullin and Treasurer York. Also present were: Attorney Axe, Engineer Levine and 7 interested citizens.

Motion Domen, support Kelly, to approve the minutes of the regular meeting of July 22, 1975 as presented. CARRIED

Correspondence from the Board of Public Works in regards to our denial to developers to tap into Ypsi Sewer, a thank you from Boy Scout troop 754, a thank you from Denton Cemetery Association, Senator Faust and State Representative Owen re: HB4239 on Inheritance Tax and Detroit Water Board were read and acknowledged.

Motion by Soja, support Kureth, to support the resolutions from Romulus, Harper Woods, Lincoln Park and Wayne County Clerks Association asking the state to bear the cost of the Presidential Preference Election. CARRIED

The following submitted sewer construction bids on the Michigan Avenue - Denton Road sewer were opened:

Dullinger Exc. Inc. $24,963.75

Stewart and Sons $19,327.35

L & M Exc. $22,623.00

H & H Equip. $23,754.00

DiNillo Const. Co. $31,435.00

Orchard Equip. Co. $43,065.90

Motion by Maton, support Kureth, to refer the bids to the Township Engineer for review, tabulation and recommendation. Carried. The Bids to be awarded at the next regular meeting.

Township Attorney Axe explained the authorization of establishing a Plant Rehabilitation District that Webb Forging requested. This type of district permits the State Equalized Value on the plant to be frozen for a 12 year period for reconstruction and rehabilitation of the plant. Motion Kelly, support Domen, to adopt the resolution establishing a Plant Rehabilitation District as per request of Webb Forging. CARRIED Motion Maton, support Kureth, to waive the building permit fee for the new St. Pauls Lutheran Church at Huron River Drive and Elwell Rd. CARRIED

Motion Domen, support Kelly, to authorize Supervisor Gollwitzer and any other Board member to attend the Assessors school and pay the pre-registration fee. CARRIED

The resignation of R. Zimmer from Fire Dept No. 1 was accepted by the board. Motion Kureth, support Maton, to appoint David P. Remus as firefighter to Dept No. 1 contingent that he passes his physical. CARRIED Motion Kureth, support Domen, to levy a total of 7.40 mills thru out Van Buren Township for 1975. CARRIED

1 Mill Operating 4 Mills Sewer

2 Mills Water 4-tenths Mill PCHA

Motion Kelly, support Maton, to note and file the petition presented by Edgedale residents requesting not to install sewers on Edgedale Street. CARRIED Township attorney Axe stated that the sewer is part of the Project I Sewer and Water program, approved by the Michigan Finance Commission and the contract to construct has been awarded. The program is beyond a withdrawal stage. The Township also will check with the Department of Natural Resources on this matter. A petition of Edison Employees who want to continue camping at Van Buren Park was presented. Maton said employees like and want to stay and are willing to pay more. Supervisor Gollwitzer stated this would deviate from our agreement with Detroit Edison Company. Kelly stated he would like to see these camping privileges extended to Township residents before extending them to Edison employees. Motion Domen, support Kelly to refer this to the Recreation Commission and the Park Director for study and recommendation. CARRIED

After much discussion on hunting in Van Buren Township where Maton stopke in favor of banning hunting in Van Buren Township and Domen spoke against the ban, a motion was made by Kureth to post "no hunting" signs on Township owned property, supported by Kelly. Motion carried 5 to 1. Domen voted NO. Motion by Maton to draft an Ordinance to ban hunting in Van Buren Township north of Belleville Lake, then changed motion to read: to study further and hold a public hearing to get the peoples feelings on this, supported by Kureth and carried 5 to 1. Kelly voted NO.

Motion Domen, support Maton, to accept the recommendation of Supervisor Gollwitzer and re-appoint Larry Boelter and William Chizmar to the Recreation Commission for 3 year terms. CARRIED Motion Kureth, support Kelly, to accept the request of Attorney Axe to table the planning commission recommendations to amend the Zoning Ordinance. CARRIED Motion Kureth, support Maton, to adopt a resolution to re-use tapes of meetings 60 days after the minutes of that meeting are approved. CARRIED. It was discussed that purchase of tapes was getting expensive and that storage and security of losing, misplacement or damage to tapes could cause problems.

Motion Kureth, support Maton, to have the Water Department purchase a trailer for the ditcher and back hoe from Bitten Brothers, who gave the lowest price quote. CARRIED Prices quoted were:

Michigan Equipment Co. $6612.00

Colwell Equipment Co. $6400.00

Bitten Brothers $6200.00

Motion Kureth, support Kelly, to approve the changes in Water Contract I as submitted. CARRIED. These changes will comply with our agreement with Sumpter Township.

Motion Kelly, support Kureth, to accept the Police, Fire Department one and two, Dog Wardens, Water Department and Fund reports as submitted. CARRIED

Motion Kelly, support Domen, to approve the voucher lists as submitted. CARRIED

A resident of Van Buren Estates asked for more police patrol in that subdivision. Mr. Gollwitzer explained that our part time police department supplements the Wayne County Sheriffs patrol.

Department No. 2 Fire Chief Gonczy informed the board that Clinton Brown and Elmer Memering had finished their schooling and received their Emergency Medical Training Certificates and that the Township should be thinking about a Rescue Ambulance service for the Township. Trustee Kureth and Fire Chief Gonczy will look into possibilities of getting federal funds for this.

Motion Kelly, support Maton, to adjourn.

Meeting adjourned at 9:06 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,

Stephanie Soja

Deputy Clerk
